Willard Wileman Slugged and Gagged by Escaping Burglar at Father's Home.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Edgerton, Oct. 23.—Wednesday evening while the family were away from home a hold thief entered the home of H. Wileman and got away with $85 belonging to Mrs. Wileman's brother, who expected to start in a few days for Norway. Willard, a son, was the first to return home and surprised the burglar making his escape. He was knocked down, bound and gagged. When Mr. Wileman arrived home and turned on the light he found the house in such a run-down condition he began to investigate. He found a suitcase filled with clothes, a camera and several other things on the porch roof which the robber left in his hasty departure. He then went to the rear of the house to find his son bound and gagged and nearly unconscious. An alarm was given at once and Marshal Campbell started a search for the party connected with the crime, but up to the present time no clue has been found.

MUCH INTERESTED IN THE SPEAKERS

LIMA, NEWARK AND HARMONY HEAR REPUBLICAN TALKS.

THREE RALLIES LAST NIGHT

Enthusiastic Gatherings Listen to Local Orators Discuss Campaign Issues.

In three towns last evening republican orators explained the issues of the present campaign to interested and enthusiastic audiences. Not only were the halls well filled, but the speakers paid close attention to the statements and appeared convinced with the arguments favoring the election of Taft and Sherman and the entire republican ticket.
At Lima
At Lima Arthur Fisher and L. C. Whitte of Edgerton talked to an interested audience of some two hundred and fifty voters at Hollbrook's hall. Mr. Fisher gave a fine address, touching upon the issues at stake and the results that might be expected should Bryan succeed in defeating Judge Taft. His talk was clear and well delivered and convincing to his hearers. Mr. Whitte also spoke and his knowledge from the businessman's point of view was clearly presented. It was a representative gathering.
At Newark
At Newark, Charles Hemmingsway, Harry Adams and Simon Smith, candidate for the assembly from the third district, spoke at Woodman's hall to a gathering estimated at two hundred. Both Mr. Hemmingsway and Mr. Adams gave strong talks on the necessity of continuing the republican administration and they were followed by Mr. Smith and H. G. Schenck. The meeting was most interesting and many of those present later assured the speakers that the sentiment in the town of Newark was strongly republican.
At Harmony
John L. Fisher, Ray Clarke of Milton and Grant V. Fisher of Janesville, candidate for the assembly from the second district, held a most enthusiastic meeting at the Harmony Town hall. Mr. Fisher made an excellent address on the campaign and explained many points which are of issue in a clear and concise manner. Mr. Clarke gave a sound republican speech and Grant V. Fisher talked for a few minutes on national questions as well as local conditions. While a dance in the vicinity interfered with the attendance many came to the meeting first and went to the dance later.
Tonight's Meetings
This evening John L. Fisher and William Dougherty speak at Johnstown Center and tomorrow evening at Hanover. The Hanover meeting is to be attended by all the candidates on the county ticket and promises to be one of the most interesting of the campaign.
Other Addresses
On Monday evening John L. Fisher and W. H. Dougherty are the orators at the meeting at the Old Church at Emerald Grove and Arthur Fisher and Chas. Hemmingsway hold forth at Magdolia. Mr. Whitte will accompany Mr. Hemmingsway and Mr. Fisher to Magnolia and also to Center on Wednesday evening.
On Tuesday next J. L. Fisher and W. H. Dougherty speak at the Town hall in Fulton.
On Wednesday, Arthur Fisher and Charles Hemmingsway speak at Center. Thursday, John L. Fisher and W. H. Dougherty speak at the town hall in Fulton.
On the thirteenth, J. L. Fisher and W. H. Dougherty speak at Shopshire. November 2 J. L. Fisher and W. H. Dougherty speak in the opera-house at Orfordville.
A Tar-Pot Affair: The fire department was called out about ten o'clock this morning to extinguish a blazing tar-pot on Center avenue. The tar was being used in repairing a walk and the partial destruction of a quantity of it in the kettle was the only damage done.

The attendance is made up of about five hundred delegates, who represent the 200,000 members of the Union scattered over every state and territory. VANDERBILT CUP RACES TO START TOMORROW MORNING

First Car Will Be Sent Away As Soon As It Is Light Enough To See.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
New York, Oct. 23.—A score of racing automobiles, guided by the best drivers of America and Europe, will compete tomorrow in the fourth competition for the silver trophy given by William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., known as the Vanderbilt Cup. The first car, a Locomobile, will be sent away from the starting line at the grand stand located on the new motor parkway not far from the village of Central Park and several miles east of Garden City and Mineola as soon as practicable after dawn, and the other cars will follow at half-minute intervals. They will make eleven circuits of the new cup course of 23.5 miles, and the driver covering the 258.5 miles in the shortest time will be awarded the trophy.

As an international automobile speed contest the Vanderbilt Cup race holds first place among similar events the world over, and automobilists, not alone throughout America but across the water, will eagerly await the decision which is likely to be known about noon tomorrow. Among the drivers entered there are so many skillful, fearless and experienced men with cars of known power and speed, that it is useless to attempt to predict the winner.

The cars entered in the race embrace Locomobiles, two Knox, three Mercedes, one Chudwick, one Isotta, two Matheson, one Hotchkiss, one Buick, one D. L. N. and one Renault. Numbered among the well known drivers who will be seen in the great contest are Strang, Robertson, Dade, Haupt, Lytle, Rynn, Pouget, Salzman, Chevrolet, Bouquet and Foxhall Keene.

With a fair day it is claimed that speed, hitherto unheard of in this country, will be made by the competitors. In practice the racing machine have made some "mush" speed over the new course, and it is believed that in the event tomorrow the winner will have to maintain a speed of better than a mile a minute. This means that the cars will shoot along straight and level stretches of road at ninety miles an hour, for at the turns in the course, of which there are eight, a speed of sixty miles an hour cannot be maintained, if the drivers would preserve their lives and their machines to the end of the race.

The racing circuit this year is a little more isolated than those which have been used in the three previous years. It is in the form of an irregular triangle surrounding the village of Hicksville, with the Jericho turnpike on the north and the new motor parkway on the south. The start and finish will be on the motor parkway several miles east of Mineola and Garden City, the latter place being the headquarters of the Vanderbilt Cup Commission. The country in which the circuit is located is generally level, there being a remarkable absence of hills even for Long Island. The circuit on miles of the motor parkway is practically level, and from the grandstand there is an extended view of the cement parkway part of the course. The grand stand is a permanent affair of steel, ten times as large as the stands at former races. All of the parkway is fenced with strong steel wire fencing and parking spaces for cars have been designed along this stretch.

Enormous crowds of people are expected to congregate along the circuit, and the handling of these is the most difficult matter the Cup Commission has to face. The entire course will be thoroughly policed, nearly one thousand men having been engaged for this duty. Special arrangements have been made by the Long Island Railroad Company for the transportation of the crowds. Every hotel, boarding house and private dwelling in Garden City and Hicksville has been engaged to accommodate tonight the drivers and hundreds of others actively interested in the great contest.

Typographical Unions Demand Union Label on Copies of the Commoner.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

The typographical unions of Indiana and other states are forwarding resolutions to William Jennings Bryan, demanding that the union label be placed on his publication, "The Commoner." In many instances the resolutions state that, unless the demand is complied with, copies of the paper which are received by union subscribers will be returned to the Commoner office at Lincoln, Neb., in their original wrappers. The printers feel that so long as Bryan professes to be a friend of the unions he should see to it that his publishers follow the custom of all union offices.

PAPERS FILED IN INJUNCTION SUIT

Order to Show Cause Will Be Argued Before Judge Grimm

October 24th.

Papers in the injunction suit of the Janesville Electric Co. vs. the Bladgett Milling company were filed in the office of the clerk of the circuit court yesterday and today. The suit is brought to restrain the defendant company from driving piles in the river in the rear of their new office building and filling in between the piles and the shore. The plaintiff alleges that such a fill would hinder the flow of water and thus lower the power obtainable by the Electric Light company.

A temporary injunction was obtained on September 5th by the plaintiff company and an order to show cause why this should not be dissolved will be argued before Judge Grimm on October 24th. The order was signed on October 15th and is supported by a number of affidavits that the proposed fill would not interfere with the power of the electric light company. The defendants in their answer say that the proposed fill is all to be driven inside of the boundary fixed by the city council beyond which encroachments on the river bed can not be built.

OPPORTUNITY IS GIVEN TO VOTERS

TO CHANGE THE CONSTITUTION ON ELECTION DAY.

VETO PERIOD EXTENDED

Measures Relate Also to Naturalization, Public Highway Improvement and Taxation.

Four important amendments to the state constitution may be made by the voters this fall. The questions have often been discussed. One amendment to be voted upon gives the governor six days, instead of three, to pass upon a bill after it has been received by him. The second would make an income tax possible; the third provides that the state may assist in making good roads and the last amends the constitution as regards to naturalization.

In order that the voters may be familiar with the four proposed amendments to the state constitution which will be submitted for ratification or rejection by the people at the approaching election, the text of each is presented in full as follows:

Gives Governor More Time
The bill for the proposed amendment (No. 464) regarding the governor's approval of bills is as follows:
Resolved by the assembly, that article 7 of the constitution be amended by striking out the word "three" in line thirteen and inserting in lieu thereof the word "six" so that when so amended said section shall read as follows:

Section 10—Every bill which shall have passed the legislature shall, before it becomes a law, be presented to the governor; if he approves, he shall sign it, but if not, he shall return it, with his objections, to that house in which it shall have originated, who shall enter the objections at large upon the journal and proceed to reconsider it. If after such reconsideration, two-thirds of the members present shall agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent, together with the objections to the other house, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered, and if approved by two-thirds of the members present it shall become a law. But in all such cases the votes of both houses shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the names of the members voting for or against the bill shall be entered on the journal of each house respectively. If any bill shall not be returned by the governor within six days, (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be a law unless the legislature shall, by their adjournment, prevent its return. In which case it shall not be a law.

Income Tax Possible
The bill relating to the taxation amendment (No. 19, 8) follows:

Whereas, at the biennial session of the legislature for the year 1907 an amendment to the constitution of this state was proposed and agreed to by a majority of the members elected to each of the two houses, which proposed amendment was in the following language: "Resolved, by the assembly, the senate concurring, that section 1 of article 8 of the constitution of the state of Wisconsin be amended by adding at the end thereof the following: 'Taxes also may be imposed on incomes, privileges, and occupations, which taxes may be graduated and progressive, and reasonable exemptions may be provided.'"

Resolved, by the senate, the assembly concurring, that the foregoing amendment to the constitution of the state of Wisconsin be and the same is agreed to by this legislature.

Voters' League Measure
The bill providing for a vote to amend the constitution (No. 17, A) as regards naturalization is as follows:
Whereas at the biennial session of the legislature for the year 1905 an amendment to the constitution of this state was proposed and agreed to by a majority of the members elected to each of the two houses; which proposed amendment was in the following language:

"Resolved by the assembly, the senate concurring, that subsection 2 of section 1 of article III of the constitution of the state of Wisconsin be amended so as to read as follows: 'Persons of foreign birth who, prior to the first day of December, A. D. 1908, shall have declared their intentions to become citizens conformably to the laws of the United States on the subject of naturalization, provided that the rights hereby granted to such persons shall cease on the first day of December, A. D. 1912.'"

Therefore, resolved by the senate, the assembly concurring, that the foregoing proposed amendment to the constitution of the state of Wisconsin be and the same is agreed to by this legislature.

The bill relating to an amendment allowing the passage of laws which shall allow appropriations for good roads (No. 22, 8) follows:
Whereas, at the biennial session of the legislature for the year 1905 an amendment to the constitution of this state was proposed and agreed to by a majority of the members elected to each of the two houses; which proposed amendment was in the following language:

"Resolved, by the senate, the assembly concurring, that section 10 of article VII of the constitution, be amended by adding at the end thereof the following:
"Provided that the state may appropriate money in the treasury or to be therefrom raised by taxation for the construction or improvement of public highways."

Therefore, be it resolved by the senate, the assembly concurring, that the foregoing amendment to the constitution of the state of Wisconsin be and the same is agreed to by this legislature.

FOND OF APPEALING TO LAW.

Anecdote Shows Litigious Nature of South African Natives.

The Diamond Fields Advertiser, referring to the litigious nature of the natives of South Africa, gives the following as an instance: "A native had fought and lost an action in the magistrate's court in one of the small towns in Orangeburg East, the articles in dispute being a slate and an alphabet primer of the total value of sixpence. He, immediately after the judgment was given against him, started on a journey on foot to the chief town, about 30 miles distant, in order to instruct an attorney there to appeal from the judgment given. The attorney laughed at the man and told him he should desist, as he would only be wasting his money over a trivial matter, but he tendered the costs of the appeal to the attorney and insisted, otherwise he would consult another lawyer. After a long consultation and endeavor to advise his client to act as was thought best, the attorney complied with the native's wishes. The native won his appeal."

The Vision of City Children.
A well-known English surgeon called attention, some time ago, to the inability of city children to see well at a great distance, caused, he said, by their restricted line of vision. The other side of the street is about as far as they have an opportunity of using their sight. It is different with country children, who have an expanse of landscape to look at, and can practice their sight on a great variety of objects at a distance. He suggests that city children should be given every possible chance to do the same, and thus train the sight and strengthen the eyes at the same time. There is so much good sense in this suggestion and it should have the serious attention of fathers and mothers.

Getting the Doctor's Attention.
Any one who has had to wait any considerable length of time in a doctor's public room until the man of medicine was ready to receive him will appreciate an experience of Congressman Francis W. Cushman of Washington state. It is said the congressman some time ago had occasion to visit one of the noted physicians at the national capital and was compelled for many weary minutes to cool his heels in an anteroom. Finally, his patience becoming exhausted, he summoned an attendant, to whom he said:

"Present my compliments to the doctor, and tell him if I am not admitted in five minutes I shall get well again."

The physician found it convenient to admit Mr. Cushman at once.

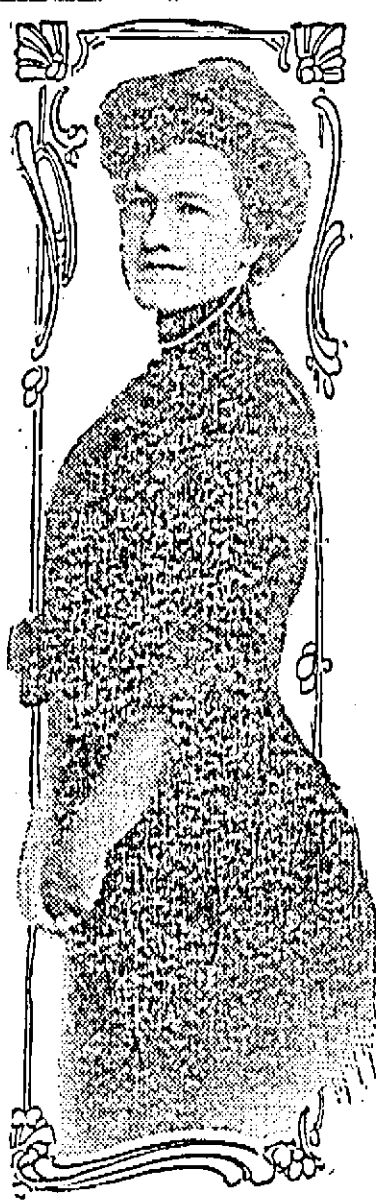

Polite Children.
It is said that when Macaulay, a boy of six, was asked to have some more pudding he politely replied: "Thank you, I have enjoyed an apple and a slice of cake."

This sage reply is matched by a little Cleveland girl who, when offered a second frosted cake, showed her excellent training by answering: "Mamma has directed me to always refrain from taking a second piece of anything."

It is gratifying to know, however, that the childish nature promptly reasserted itself when the little maid added:

"But you can lay it on my plate, if you please."

Sore Throat Cure.
Gargling for a sore throat every half hour with lemon juice and water will often give relief. If the trouble is from the stomach swallowing half a cupful twice a day is helpful.

LADY HARRINGTON, NEE AMY McMILLAN.

Lady Harrington (Amy McMillan) who is now in Abyssinia, where her husband, Sir John Harrington, holds an official position, is to come to this country this winter to visit her mother Mrs. James McMillan, who spends the season in Washington.

The marriage of Amy McMillan daughter of the late Senator James McMillan of Detroit, and Lieut. Col. Sir John Lane Harrington took place on October 12, 1907, at the home of the bride's mother, "Englehead," Manchester-by-the-sea, Rev. Thomas L. Gasson, president of Boston college, officiating. North Shore society was well represented at the wedding.

No American girl ever had a more romantic honeymoon trip. It is declared, than that of Lady Harrington.

From the conventional and luxurious life of the North Shore to the east shores of Africa, through the tropic jungles and over almost inaccessible mountains in a far cry, but that is exactly what Sir John and Lady Harrington undertook.

The beginning of this wedding tour included a 7,000-mile voyage to Aden, on the Gulf of Aden. From that point a 600-mile journey was taken to the city of Addis Ababa, the capital city of King Menelik ruler of Abyssinia.

For 185 miles of their journey there is a railroad, but when that was left behind it was a matter of horse and camel riding to Addis Ababa. Part of the way was through cultivated fields and valleys, but most of it was through the virgin forests of Ethiopia.

Sir John Harrington is a favorite of King Menelik. One of the first events celebrated after the arrival of the plucky American girl and her titled husband at Addis Ababa was their reception by King Menelik, and the arrangements for this ceremony were completed long before Sir John left for this country.

The embassy in which they live consists of a series of round houses of savage architecture, all connected one with the other and arranged to form a quadrangle. The luxuries of the North Shore have never been imported to Ethiopia, but the American bride and her titled husband arranged to convert the barbarian home in Abyssinia into an abode of loveliness in which the conventional furnishings of civilization are mingled with the ancient appliances of barbarism to form a home of beauty such as no American girl of recent years has ever had.

Land of Utopia.
The word "Utopia" is from two Greek words meaning "nowhere." It is an imaginary island representing the "best state of a public weale," described by Thomas More.

This sage reply is matched by a little Cleveland girl who, when offered a second frosted cake, showed her excellent training by answering: "Mamma has directed me to always refrain from taking a second piece of anything."

It is gratifying to know, however, that the childish nature promptly reasserted itself when the little maid added:

"But you can lay it on my plate, if you please."

GREAT SNOWSTORM IN THE NORTHWEST

RAILWAY TRAFFIC AT STAND-STILL IN MANITOBA.

TRAINS STUCK IN DRIFTS

Rainfall in Southwest Breaks All October Records—Serious Danger of Floods in Oklahoma.

Winnipeg, Man., Oct. 23.—One of the worst snow storms that ever occurred in the northwest is now at the height of its fury and has completely demoralized the services of both the Canadian Pacific and the Great Northern railroads. The storm started Tuesday night and continues with unabated vigor.

Ten inches of snow have already fallen, accompanied by a terrible gale. Snow has blown into the railway cuts, completely filling them up, and in many cases the snow is over ten feet deep.

The Canadian Pacific has ordered snow plows to the scene and they are hard at work clearing the tracks, but little progress can be made until the snow ceases to fall. The expressmen from Vancouver and other western points are completely stalled, while west-bound trains are held up and none of them can proceed. No trains from the east reached the city Thursday, and it is doubtful when they will get through.

Railway Companies Unprepared.

The storm which broke over Alberta province Tuesday night was wholly unexpected by the railway companies, and preparation was not made to receive it. The storm was a blinding one and the snow quite soft.

The Canadian Northern train left Edmonton at the usual time and proceeded all right until near Islay, a short distance east of Vermilion, when she ran into a snow bank and stuck there. Attempts were made to back the train up, but this failed and finally another train was sent to pull her out.

Heavy Rains in West.

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 23.—The rain storm that has been general over the southwest for three days, following a 48-day drought, has broken all October records in amount of precipitation.

At Lawrence, Kan., the rainfall Wednesday, 5.60 inches, broke all the October rainfall records for 22 years. In Kansas City during the 24 hours ending at seven o'clock Thursday morning the precipitation was 4.38 inches, which is a new record for 24 hours. All the streams in Kansas and Oklahoma are overflowing the bottoms, and there has been some loss of corn and cotton, and many bridges have been washed away.

A killing frost is expected throughout the northwest Friday night. There was a light fall of snow at Topoka and Wichita Thursday afternoon.

Flood Peril in Oklahoma.

Muskogee, Okla., Oct. 23.—The Arkansas river here is rising at the rate of a foot and a half an hour and there is no indication of a cessation of the rains. Grave fears are expressed for the safety of residents of the river bottoms and watchmen were stationed along the river banks to give warning in case of an overflow.

GERMAN ROYALTY ARE WED

PRINCESS VICTORIA AND PRINCE
WILLIAM MARRIED.

Nuptials Take Place in Chapel of Imperial Palace—Groom Emperor's Fourth Son.

Berlin, Germany, Oct. 2.—Princess Alexandra Victoria of Schleswig-Holstein, daughter of Prince Frederick, duke of Schleswig-Holstein, was married in the chapel of the imperial palace at five o'clock Thursday afternoon to Prince August William of Prussia, fourth son of Emperor William. The ceremony was witnessed by the members of the imperial family and about 50 princes and princesses of the minor German royal houses. The chancellor of the empire, Prince von Bismarck, as well as the other high state functionaries, the members of the diplomatic corps, including Dr. Hill, the American ambassador, and the members of the embassy staffs with their wives, with about 800 other guests, were present.

The civil ceremony was held in the private apartment of the palace, after which the empress placed the Hohenzollern crown upon the head of the young princess. The royal party then marched in procession to the chapel. The bride was clad in a white silk dress trimmed with lace and her train, which was richly embroidered with silver and 13 feet long, was borne by four pages. The simple ceremony of the Lutheran state church was performed by Dr. Dryander, the court preacher, assisted by several minor ecclesiastics.

As the rings were exchanged the artillery in the palace square began firing a salute, and the crash of guns was interrupted by the melodious chiming of the church bells. The emperor and the empress kissed the bride couple.

After the ceremony the royal party marched to the white hall of the palace and held a reception to some 2,000 invited guests.

After the supper the wedding guests took part in a "fugot dance," an old custom that has been modernized by the emperor and the empress. The newly wedded pair promenaded around the White Hall attended by ten lackeys bearing tall candles, while the

MME. KATTI SCHREITT, THE ACTRESS WHO HOLDS THE POWER OF WAR OR PEACE IN AUSTRIA.

Budapest.—It has just leaked out that one dominant factor in the recent developments in the Balkan states has been the former actress of renown, Mme. Katti Schreitt. Her advice to the emperor may be relied upon to be on the side of good government and conservatism. It has been well known for 20 years that Katti Schreitt has dominated the emperor and during these 20 years her every whim has been a law to him. Only recently Francis Joseph gave her the magnificent palace of his younger brother, Archduke Victor, whom he has banished from the court for erratic conduct. The emperor has almost bankrupted himself that she might have indulgence. And strangest of all, the woman has so fascinated her country that the populace has given her honor as a wise kingly counselor, a woman whose reign over a royal consort has done nothing but good for the empire and whose influence has changed a ruler to a man of tender devotion to his people.

The actress lives in luxury and travels extensively and is hailed wherever she goes as "Fran Kaiserin." These luxuries and tours, however, are not the main source of her extravagance. Her tenderness goes to an extent that knows no bounds and this is what has crippled the finances of her king. Mme. Schreitt is loved because she is courteous, because as a companion of the old emperor she has caused his last years and because her influence with him has been only for the better. She is now close to 60 years of age, but she is still beautiful and her eyes are not dimmed. Her hair is still a soft light brown and her carriage is erect.

The history of how Mme. Schreitt gained control over the emperor is a fascinating chapter of Austria's history. She was once an actress in the court theater and her beauty and talent won her wealth and fame. Once she came to America under the direction of Henry Conrad and was accorded plaudits of the article.

At first Katti Schreitt scarcely realized the immense power she had over the ruler, but gradually she came to realize that every whim or suggestion was taken by him to be a command.

Then it was that she first began to use her influence for the betterment of conditions and helping the poor. Diplomats soon learned that the surest way to gain and end with the emperor was to have Katti Schreitt on their side.

In a little while she was the diplomatic center rather than the emperor. She studied problems and decided wisely. Her sanity and conservatism could always be relied upon. She has worked many reforms for the people and in the present war scene she is an important figure.

THE NEW SHEATH STOCKING.

At left is shown the new lace nuptial stocking worn with short vamp "Pompadour" slippers. At right, the very latest in stockings—embroidered front with sheath effect at the side.

New York.—"Mitt' orful, Maggie," a bowery girl was heard to exclaim as she was standing in front of the display window of a large department store viewing the new sheath stockings. "But I just wish I could have a pair, too," she finished with a sigh. Shocking or not, the sheath gown and the new sheath stockings to match are here to stay. One New York house has sent an order to France for 25,000 pairs of these stockings and already the major part of them have been taken by advance orders.

"I had thought that the taste of American women would revolt at this vulgarity," he said, when asked about his order. "But at last I have been coerced into ordering these, for the demand is great and must be filled."

The sheath stocking should be black or a dark shade of blue, or brown, or contrast with the flesh tints revealed by the slash. Over the open space, which is two inches wide at the top of the stocking and graduated to a quarter of an inch at the foot, is faced a half inch wide black ribbon. The ribbon is finished by a large flat bow at the top. To meet the difficulty of the cold winds of midwinter adjustable flesh-colored facings of silk are worn inside the slash, if desired. These are worn with the director's gowns and match or harmonize with them.

Of course, the sheath stocking is not as warm as the old-fashioned sort. It is, indeed chilly. But brave women, carrying fashion's standard, will not flinch at this new hardship.

Forest Fire Causes Big Explosion.

Shamokin, Pa., Oct. 23.—A forest fire Thursday caused the explosion of two nitroglycerin magazines containing 400 gallons of the explosive. It is under control and a third magazine, which was menaced during the afternoon, is now considered out of danger. The fire burned over acres of timber land and destroyed the nitroglycerin plant of the John H. Hamel Company at Grango, a mile south of here.

Dog Brought His Friend.

An English lady, who had been from home some time, was recently greeted on her return by the old sheep dog with great delight. So pleased was the animal that he at once went off to a farm seven miles away to summon another dog—an old chum—to come and see his old mistress. This dog was blind, and, after the introduction, was taken back safely by its canine friend.

BOLD CRIME IN NEW YORK

JEWELER ROBBED OF DIAMONDS AND FATALLY SHOT.

Thief Presents Forged Letter from Banker, Seizes Plunder and Escapes in Taxicab.

New York, Oct. 23.—An audacious robbery, and probably murder, occurred here Thursday night. Maurice Tannenholz, a Lexington avenue jeweler, was shot by an unknown man who had posed as "a friend" of Constant A. Andrews, president of the United States Savings bank of this city, and had stolen two diamond earrings.

The robber escaped in a taxicab and the jeweler was removed dying to a hospital. He has three bullet wounds in the abdomen.

Tannenholz was in his shop when a man entered and handed him a typewritten letter addressed to him and purporting to be from President Andrews. It introduced the bearer as "George H. Leopold," an "old personal friend." It further stated that "Leopold" had $2,000 to invest in diamonds. Never doubting the authenticity of the letter, Tannenholz showed Leopold a tray of diamonds. The stranger selected the earrings and then suddenly ran from the store. Tannenholz and two clerks pursued him so hotly that the former soon grabbed him by the shoulder. Then the robber drew a revolver, fired at Tannenholz and sprang into the taxicab which was standing near the store. The chauffeur of the machine was undoubtedly a confederate, for he sent it flying down the street on the instant, and it had disappeared long before the police reached the scene.

CAR FRANCHISE IS BEATEN.

Cleveland's Traction Problem Complicated by Referendum Vote.

Cleveland, O., Oct. 23.—The franchise under which the Municipal Traction Company is operating the local street railway lines on a three-cent fare basis, was defeated by a majority of 879 in the referendum vote here Thursday. The total vote cast was upwards of 75,000.

The defeat of the franchise may mean that the railway property will revert to its original owners and that the old rate of fare strife which lasted seven years will be renewed. The only alternative will be for city council at once to grant a new franchise which will save the property to the Municipal Traction Company.

CAREFUL DENTISTRY

Nobody wants a Dentist to go at them as if he were a Blacksmith, and they were the Anvil.

A Chicago party recently said, "Dr. Richards, you are the most careful Dentist I ever had work in my mouth."

Of course, I like to have people know and appreciate the fact that I use thought in every move I make around their mouth.

I've had my own teeth bored out and latched up so that I think I can appreciate the other fellow's feelings somewhat.

If you want a Dentist who walks on eggs when he works for you, just select the right one, and I think that's me.

THOMAS BURNS WASSTRUCK BY TRAIN;*DIED AT HOSPITAL

Thomas Burns Hit by North-Western Train No. 510 at Mill-More's Cut.

Thomas Burns, a transient who had been working at track-laying for the North-Western road, was struck by train No. 510 on that road this morning and died shortly before eleven o'clock at the Mercy Hospital. Burns was picked up yesterday when drunk by Officer Fanning and kept in the lock-up overnight, and had been turned out this morning about nine o'clock. He had started for the new yards at South Janesville to catch a freight train for Chicago and was walking along the track just beyond the Rock River bridge when he was struck. The North-Western train for Chicago, which is due out here at 8:10 in charge of Conductor Shipman and Engineer Sherman, struck him while going at a good rate of speed and threw him to one side. The man was seen on the track and the engineer supposed that he heard the train coming and did not attempt to stop the train until too late.

The train was immediately stopped and the injured man brought to the North-Western passenger depot, from where he was taken to the Mercy Hospital. On examination it was found that his back was broken, the back of his skull crushed and that he was badly bruised otherwise. He died about 10:45. Burns was a man about thirty-five years of age. At the police station yesterday Burns told Chief Appleby he had no family. He was tattooed on the forearm with the initials "F. C. B."

Musque Ball at Assembly Hall: Under the auspices of the Royal Dancin' club, a musque ball was given at Assembly hall last evening. About seventy-five couples were in attendance and Knott & Hatch's orchestra played a program which lasted until one o'clock this morning. Many attractive costumes were worn and the $10 in prizes was divided among the following: most elegant gentleman's costume, G. L. Adkins; most elegant ladies' costume, Mrs. Blazer; best dressed lady, Miss Ida Lawrence; best dressed gentleman, Harry Hessehaus.

Charges Gallup Girl with Theft: According to a complaint lodged with Sheriff I. U. Fisher by a well-dressed woman who visited the county jail last evening, Bessie Gallup, the fourteen-year-old girl recently committed to the Girls' Industrial school in Milwaukee, had stolen several articles of wearing apparel which were sent by her to a local laundry. When the woman called for the washing she alleges that the management informed her that the Gallup girl had secured it after paying the bill. As she did not take any extra clothing with her to Milwaukee, it is supposed that, providing the allegation is true, she probably sold it in some quarter.

Pipe Broken by Bad Boys: The contractors who are laying the sewers in the Third ward claim to have incurred a considerable loss by the breaking of numerous lengths of sewer pipe at the hands of bad boys. In many instances the piping was struck along the trenches in front of residences and youngsters with fully developed bumps of destruction have not been able to resist the temptation to roll the large sections over the embankment and see them break. In one instance it was necessary to keep a watchman on the scene until midnight. Arrests will undoubtedly be made if the depredations continue.

SUGAR QUOTATIONSMOUNTING SKYWARD

Raise of 30 Cents a Hundred in New York Market. Within Past Few Days—Big Shortage in Europe.

According to advices received from New York by Albert Lawson, president and manager of the Janesville Wholesale Grocery Co., the remarkable advance in sugar noted during the past few days is likely to continue owing to a big shortage reported in European markets. Within the past few days quotations on this staple product have advanced 30 cents per hundred in the New York market. Last Saturday it was $4.50 and now it is $5.10, which, with freight charges of 33 cents, means that it will cost $5.43 laid down in Janesville in carload lots. The reports here are that the European shortage amounts to fully a half.

That is what wears out your clothes—the eternal rubbing up and down the washboard.

Why don't you stop it? It isn't necessary.

The right way to wash clothes—the easy way—the quick way—the safe way—the Modern way is with P. & G. Naphtha Soap and cold (or lukewarm) water.

If you adopt this way, you will have precious little use for a wash-board.

The naphtha in P. & G. Naphtha Soap loosens the dirt. The soap cleans.

Boiling the clothes, too, is unnecessary. Use P. & G. Naphtha Soap and get rid of these twin evils of wash day. There is no need for either.

P. & G. Naphtha Soap is for sale in almost every grocery in this city.

The price is 5 cents a cake.

THE whole doctrine of Devoe Lead and Zinc Paint turns on these three points:

1. It is all paint and true paint.

2. It is strongest, and goes farthest.

3. It is full measure.

Because these three things are true, Devoe Lead and Zinc Paint takes least gallons for the job; looks best all the time; lasts longest.

There is no such argument for any other paint; there is no other such paint; the man who uses Devoe gets the best he can get, in paint.

Satisfactory

A gentleman bought

a pair of shoes yesterday just like those he had on and when asking the price was told

$3.50—the same price

he had paid before. "I suppose there is no use to dicker with you people," he said.

No, we told him

frankly that when shoes

came into the store they were marked as low as they could be sold and that when we told our customers the shoe was

$3.50 he could have the assurance that it was the best $3.50 shoe we could buy on the worldwide market. That is the beauty of a one-price system. You know you have rook bottom

the first crack out of the box. People do not like to dicker and when they do dicker and get a reduction of 25c they have no assurance that a little more dicker would not get them another reduction.

And then, too, we always say this:

EVERY SHOE

that leaves this store does so with the understanding that your money is here waiting for you if it is not what you claim for it in style, quality of leather and workmanship.

AVON CANAL HAS

BEEN COMPLETED

DRAINS NEARLY FOUR THOUSAND

ACRES OF LAND.

IS SIX MILES IN LENGTH

Winds Through the Township of Avon

Like a Big Snake—Results

Watched.

With the completion of the Avon drainage canal, the first step has been taken towards reclaiming thousands of acres of low marshy lands in Rock county. While but six miles long and extending only across the township of Avon, this ditch already drains some thirty-two hundred acres of hitherto worthless bog, making it rich farmland.

In Section 30

Starting in section 30, but six miles north of the state line, the canal winds about like a snake, following the contours of the land and taking advantage of the lowest levels, until it empties into the Sugar river in section 35 after six miles of travel.

Much Land

Eighty-six hundred acres of land are benefited by the ditch during its passage and these are necessary for sums running from $10,000 to $125,000, payable in five yearly installments. The work has been under the direction of three canal commissioners, John Hyland, E.

H. Storck and Leroy Stokes, who were bonded for $10,000.

Eight Sections

Sections 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35 and 36 are the ones most benefited although the effect of draining off the surplus waters in these sections will really affect the whole surrounding country.

Not So Large.

The average depth is five and a half feet with an opening at the top of twenty feet and six feet at the bottom, as it approaches the Sugar river it becomes slightly wider and is fully thirty feet across where it empties

just this side of the state line.

Part of River

Scientists state that this section of the country was once part of the Rock river which covered what is now the Janesville marsh, a few miles north of the Avon project, and was many miles wide. Gradually the river has withdrawn down to its present proposition through upheavals of the land and what was then a river course is now low marshy ground.

Estimated Cost

When the work was first contemplated the estimated cost was placed at $21,725, but it has been constructed for less, owing to labor conditions and ease with which the work was done this summer due to low water and a dry season. One hundred dollars a year will be needed to keep it in repair and the land already reclaimed has much of it been used this past summer for crops.

Is Watched

The results of this ditch will be carefully watched by the farmers in the Janesville marsh district, where a similar project has been under consideration for several years. The statute which provides for the drainage districts and assessment of cost to property affected gives localities an opportunity to reclaim worthless land.

Much Larger

The Janesville district would be much larger than the Avon one and would result in bringing under cultivation many thousands more acres and the value of farm lands in the county to a great extent. At present it is under water much of the time and filled with people and hay and where oats can be used.

COUNTY CHAIRMAN

AT MYERS THEATRE

Republican and Democratic County

Committees Were Guests of the Management.

Filled with clever dialogue which kept the audience laughing throughout the play and with a strong emotional climax in the third act, George Ade's

"The County Chairman" pleased a fair-sized audience at the Myers Theatre last evening. William Chittton, in the title role as the Hon. Jim Hacker, county chairman of Jefferson county, was enough to make the play a success by himself and he was ably supported by a strong company.

While the play is told in Indiana and is the story of a campaign for the election of a county prosecuting attorney, the action would apply equally well in any rural community. As the contest is a campaign, "Politics,"

as it is called in this neck of the woods, doesn't resemble ring around the rose or button, button, wance got the bottom.

In the third act there is a strong bit of action. The county chairman tells Elias Higby why he has fought him all during his career and then when he has a chance to even up old scores he refrains from exposing Hig-

by through the pleadings of Higby's wife, who was the chairman's old sweetheart.

The love story of the chairman's young niece and Higby's daughter runs through the play and comes out happily also adds interest.

The members of the Republican and Democratic county committees were the guests of the management for the performance.

HOME MADE KIDNEY MEDICINE IS ALSO SPLENDID FOR RHEUMATISM

There are more cases of kidney trouble here now than ever before, while recent reports show that more people succumb each year to some form of kidney disease than any other cause.

When there is sickness, examine the urine. Rheumatism is only a symptom of kidney trouble. It is nothing more or less than excessive uric acid in the blood, which the sluggish, inactive kidneys have failed to sift out, leaving it to decompose and settle about the joints and muscles, causing intense suffering; frequently resulting in deformity, often reaching the point where death ensues.

Pain across the back, frequent painful and suppressed urination and other symptoms of weak bladder are not the only signs of kidney trouble; many cases of stomach disease, headache, pain in the heart, inactive liver, etc., are but symptoms; the cause of which can be traced to feeble, clogged kidneys.

A simple test of the urine is to void a small quantity in a bottle or glass and let it stand over night; next morning, if there is a reddish brick-dust sediment, or white floccy substance present, either consult some reputable physician or take a good vegetable treatment. The following prescription is recommended highly in these cases, and the sufferer can mix it at home: Compound Kargon, one ounce; Fluid Extract Nodolion, one-half ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Shake well and use in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime.

Where any of the symptoms enumerated above are present, good results are sure to follow immediately the use of this simple prescription.

TOKYO PARADE IS FINEST EVER SEEN

MILE AFTER MILE OF LANTERN-BEARING JAPANESE.

EVERY BAND IN CITY PLAYS

Emperor's Order Brings Forth Most Extraordinary Demonstration in Honor of the American Visitors.

Tokyo, Oct. 23.—The capital of Japan witnessed Thursday night the most extraordinary evidence of the spirit of the new Japan. After having an audience of the officers of the American battleship fleet on Tuesday, the emperor issued an order directing the people to increase in every way possible the enjoyment and pleasure of the American visitors, who came, he said, as historic friends of the Japanese nation. The response to this imperial mandate was soon heard Thursday night.

Originally a torchlight procession of 15,000 people was planned as part of the program, but this feature went far beyond expectations and developed one of the greatest popular demonstrations and outpourings of an enthusiastic people ever witnessed in any country. Japan's war celebrations after peace with Russia, London's "Mafeking Night," and even New York's election night revel would seem almost insignificant compared with Tokyo's celebration.

Parade is Miles Long.

It would be impossible to estimate the number of people who took part in the parade and the myriads of spectators. Mile after mile, through mainly cheering people, the great procession wound its way. Representatives of various guilds, universities, schools of every class for boys and other organizations took part in the parade, each individual carrying a lighted lantern, held high on a long pole with American and Japanese flags inter-twined.

Admiral Sperry and the other chief officers of the American fleet viewed the procession from a special grand stand, standing with bowed heads above the sea of waving lanterns, the deafening roar of cheers and the clash of the music of scores of bands which played the American national hymn continuously. So dense became the crowds around the stand where the American officers stood that the entire procession was blocked until Admiral Sperry was forced to leave in order to keep an engagement at the dinner given by Minister of Foreign Affairs Komura.

Big Demonstration at Embassy.

Again at the American embassy the great procession halted and the climax was reached, although Ambassador O'Brien was not at the embassy at the time. He, too, had left to attend the function at the residence of the foreign minister. When the head of the procession arrived at the embassy and halted, Mrs. O'Brien and the other ladies of the embassy appeared upon the veranda and received a prolonged ovation from the crowds, every man and boy among the paraders lifting his hat to the ladies, while there were continuous shouts for the American ambassador.

The entire grounds surrounding the embassy were lighted with a sea of lanterns, and the demonstration at this point lasted for two hours. Every band in Tokyo turned out for the parade and their favorite airs were "Yankee Doodle," "Dixie" and "John Brown."

At Yokohama Thursday 300 girls, all pupils of a music school, visited the flagship Connecticut and sang American national airs in English. The girls all carried American flags and on leaving the ship in lighters sang "Hail Columbia" all the way across the bay.

KING'S MESSENGER DIES.

Lieut. Jephson, Who Married California Heiress, Passes Away.

London, Oct. 23.—Lieut. Arthur Jerny Mountain Jephson, who had been the king's messenger since 1891, and prior to that the queen's messenger since 1895, died Thursday. Lieut. Jephson commanded a detachment in the Boer War and was mentioned in the King's Pasha relief expedition under Henry M. Stanley in 1887-89. In 1894 he married Miss Anna Head, the daughter of the late Addison E. Head of San Francisco.

BRANDENBURG IS ARRESTED

MAN WHO SOLD THE CLEVELAND LETTER IS IN CUSTODY.

Accused of Forgery and Grand Larceny—He Makes Statement Asserting His Innocence.

Dayton, O., Oct. 23.—As he was boarding a train for New York city here Thursday afternoon, Brandenburg was arrested by local detectives on the charge of forgery and grand larceny. A telegram from New York city police department advised the local department to hold Brandenburg. He is alleged to have sold the New York Times a letter which he represented to have been written by Grover Cleveland, in which the dead statesman predicted the election of Taft, and which letter is now declared to have been a forgery.

Brandenburg was locked up in the police station, as the amount of his bail was not fixed. It was said by his attorney that if his client was not released Friday he will institute habeas corpus proceedings.

Brandenburg says he had the proper authority from Mrs. Cleveland and from Mr. Hastings, co-executor of the Cleveland estate, before he sold the article to the Times and furthermore asks if it is reasonable that any sane man would falsify the utterances of an ex-president of the United States for $120. At the time he was arrested he said he was on his way to New York city to give District Attorney Jerome additional evidence. He says the arrest was made by those interested in offsetting the influence of Mr. Cleveland's utterance, who wished "to secure a dramatic climax just before election."

DETROIT MERCHANT MOBBED.

Crowd Takes Sides with Chauffeur He Had Discharged.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 23.—J. E. Goldberg, member of a large dry goods firm of this city, was roughly handled Thursday by a mob of 1,500 people on Griswold street, opposite the city hall, after a dispute with a chauffeur whom he had discharged. The man had collided with a street car with Mr. Goldberg's machine. Mr. Goldberg discharged him, but the chauffeur refused to leave the machine until he was paid more wages than his employer thought were due.

A large crowd had gathered and the chauffeur appealed to them. Great excitement followed. Police were sent for, but despite the officers' presence the crowd attacked Mr. Goldberg. He was first jostled, then pursued across the street and knocked down. He finally fled, with the howling crowd in pursuit.

WARSHIPS FOR ABRUZZI.

Two Will Escort Him and His Bride to Italy.

Rome, Oct. 23.—The Italian cruiser Fioramonte has been ordered to await the duke of the Abruzzi at New York, whither the cruiser Etruria also will be dispatched. It is understood that the two warships will escort the duke and his bride to Italy.

The statement is made also that no member of the Elkins family will attend the official ceremony of the transcription of the marriage deed in Rome, and that when Senator Elkins visits Italy later he will be given the title of chevalier of Annunziata.

Mr. Kern's Son No Better.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 23.—The condition of John W. His father punched the city early in the morning and scarcely left the bedside during the day.

Torpedo Mangles Children.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 23.—News has reached here that Charles and Mildred, aged six and nine years respectively, were horribly wounded by the explosion of a railroad torpedo at their home in Brimfield, Doyle county, Thursday. The children playing along the railroad tracks, found the torpedo and took it home to use as a target to throw at.

ELLEN settled deeper among her pillows as the table was removed, and Selwyn drew his chair forward.

"What is the matter with Gerald?" she asked. "Could you tell me?"

"Nothing serious is the matter, Ellen."

"Is he not ill?"

"Not very."

She lay still a moment; then, with the slightest gesture, "Come here."

He seated himself near her. She laid her hand fondly on his arm.

"Tell me," she demanded. And as he remained silent, "Once," she said, "I came suddenly into the library. Austin and Gerald were there. Austin seemed to be very angry with my brother. I heard him say something that worried me, and I slipped out before they saw me."

"What was it?"

"I don't know what you heard."

"Don't you understand me?"

"Not exactly."

"Well, then," she cried, "has Gerald misbehaved again?"

"What did you hear Austin say?" he demanded.

"I heard—something about disapproval. He was very angry with Gerald. It is not the best way, I think, to become angry with either of us—either me or Gerald—because then we are usually inclined to do it again, what ever it is."

They laughed a little. Her fingers, which had tightened on his arm, relaxed, her hand fell away, and she straightened up, sitting Turk fashion and smoothed her hair, which contact with the pillows had disarranged so that it threatened to come tumbling over eyes and cheeks.

"Oh, hair, hair," she murmured, "you're Nina's despair and my endless punishment. I'd twist and pin you tight if I dared. Some day I will too. What are you looking at so curiously, Captain Selwyn—my mope?"

"It's about the most stunningly beautiful thing I ever saw," he said, still curious.

It was a new note in their cordial intimacy, this innocent intrusion of the personal. To her it merely meant the very charming recognition of her maturity—that she was fast becoming a woman like other women, to be looked at and remembered as an individual and no longer classed vaguely as one among hundreds of the newly emerged whose soft, unmarked personalities all resembled one another.

For some time now she had cherished this tiny grudge in her heart—that he had never seemed to notice anything in particular about her except when he tried to be agreeable concerning some new gown. The contrast had become the sharper, too, since she had awakened to the admiration of other men. And the awakening was only half convinced happiness mingled with shy surprise that the wide world should really deem her so lovely.

"A red-headed girl," she said teasingly. "I thought you had better taste than that."

"Then to think you a raving beauty?"

"Oh," she said, "you don't think that?"

As a matter of fact he himself had become aware of it so suddenly that he had no time to think very much about it. It was rather strange, too, that he had not always been aware of it, or was it partly the mellow light from the lamp fluting her till she glowed and shimmered like a young sorceress, sitting so straight there in her turquoise silk and misty lace?

When Drina had gone to bed Boots also took his leave, and Selwyn rose, too, a troubled, careworn expression replacing the careless gaiety which had made him seem so young in Miss Errol's youthful eyes.

"Wait, Boots," he said. "I'm going home with you." And to Ellen, almost absently: "Good night. I'm so

LEFT ON HER DOORSTEP FOR THIS MOTHER

Mrs. A. G. Tison, of Livermore, Cal., writes: "I picked up from my doorstep one day a little book in which I soon became very much interested. My little girl of five years of age had been troubled for a long time with loss of appetite, extreme nervousness and undue fatigue. She was all run-down and in a very delicate condition."

"This little book was very comprehensive written, and told of the new method of extracting the medicinal elements of the cod's liver from the oil, eliminating the obnoxious oil which is so hard for children to take."

"Just the thing," said I, "for my little daughter," and I immediately went for a bottle of Vinol. It helped her wonderfully. She has gained rapidly in flesh and strength, and she does not take cold half so easily."

"I am extremely grateful for the good it has done her, and I hope other mothers who have weak, delicate or ailing children will be benefited by my experience and just give Vinol a trial."

very young you are very young."

"Good night," she said, looking up at him. The faintest sense of disappointment came over her at what she did not know. Was it because in his completely altered face she realized the instant and easy detachment from herself and what concerned her? Was it because other people, like Mr. Lansing—other interests, like those which so plainly in his face betrayed his preoccupation—had so easily replaced an intimacy which had seemed to grow never and more delightful with every meeting?

What was it, then, that he found more interesting, more important, than their friendship, their companionship? Was he never to grow old enough or wise enough or experienced enough to exact—without exacting—his paramount consideration and interest?

Was there no common level of mental equality where they could meet—where termination of interviews might be mutual, might be fair to her?

Now he went away, utterly detached from her and what concerned her, to seek other interests of which she knew nothing; absorbed in them to her utter exclusion, leaving her here with the long evening before her and nothing to do, because her eyes were not yet strong enough to use for reading.

Lansing was saying, "I'll drive as far as the club with you, and then you can drop me and come back later."

"Right, my son. I'll finish a letter and then come back."

"Can't you write it at the club?"

"Not that letter," he replied in a low voice and, turning to Ellen, smiled his absent, detached smile, offering his hand.

But she lay back, looking straight up at him.

"Are you going?"

"Yes, I have several."

"Stay with me," she said in a low voice.

For a moment the words meant nothing; then blank surprise silenced him, followed by curiosity.

"Is there something you wished to tell me?" he asked.

"No."

His perplexity and surprise grew. "Wait a second, Boots," he said. And Mr. Lansing, being a fairly intelligent young man, went out and down the stairway.

"Now," he said too kindly, too soothingly, "what is it, Ellen?"

"Nothing. I thought—but I don't care. Please go, Captain Selwyn."

"No, I shall not until you tell me what troubles you."

"I can't."

"Try, Ellen."

"Why, it is nothing, truly it is nothing. Only I was—it is so early—only a quarter past 8."

To stand there looking down at her, striving to understand.

"That is all," she said, flushing a trifle. "I can't read, and I can't sew, and there's nobody here. I don't mean to bother you."

"Child," he exclaimed, "do you want me to stay?"

"Yes," she said. "Will you?"

He walked swiftly to the landing outside and looked down.

"Boots," he called in a low voice, "I'm not going home yet. Don't wait for me at the Lenox."

"All right," returned Mr. Lansing cheerfully. A moment later the front door closed below. Then Selwyn came back into the library.

For an hour he sat there telling her the gayest stories and talking the most delightful nonsense, alternating with interesting incidents into serious subjects which he enchanted her to dissect under his confident guidance.

Alert, intelligent, all quiver between laughter and absorption, she had sat up among her silken pillows, resting her weight on one rounded arm, her splendid young eyes fixed on him to detect and follow and interpret every change in his expression personal to the subject and to her share in it.

His old self again? What could be more welcome? Not one shadow in his pleasant eyes, not a trace of pallor, of care, of that gray aloofness. How joyfully, how young, he was after all!

They discussed or laughed at or mentioned and dismissed with a gesture a thousand matters of common interest in that swift hour—happily swift unless the hall clock's clattered chiming were mocking time itself with mischievous effrontery.

She heard them, the enchantment still in her eyes. He nodded, listening, meeting her gaze with his smile undisturbed. When the last chiming had sounded she lay back among her cushions.

"Thank you for staying," she said quietly happily. "Do you think me interesting to read men, like you and Boots?" she asked.

"Yes," he said deliberately. "I do. I don't know how interesting, because I never quite realized how—how you had matured. That was my stupidity."

"Captain Selwyn," in confused triumph, "you never gave me a chance—I mean, you always were nice to me—the same way you are to Brian. I liked it—don't, please, misunderstand—only I knew there was something else to me—something more nearly your own age. It was jolly to know you were really fond of me, but youthful sisters grow faster than you imagine. And now, when you come, I shall venture to believe it is not wholly to do me a kindness—but a little—to do myself one too. Is that not the basis of friendship?"

The Klondike Discovery.

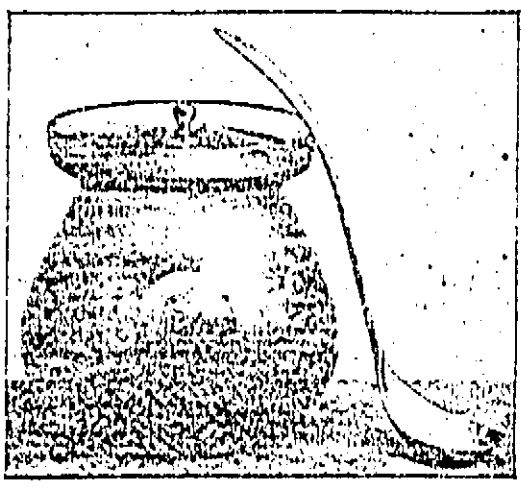

The discovery of gold in the Klondike is said to have been made by a prospector named J. W. Carmack, who married a squaw and learned from the Indians that there were deposits of gold in the Klondike region. In August, 1896, he verified the story by taking out several hundred dollars' worth of gold in a few days by primitive methods.

Suggestive Questions on the Sunday School Lesson by Rev. Dr. Linscott.

October 25th, 1908.
The Joy of Forgiveness, Psalm 32.
Golden Text—Blessed is he whose transgression is forgiven, whose sin is covered. Psalm 32:1.
Verse 1—What is implied in the forgiveness of a man's sin?
Is a man who is forgiven as good a man in all respects, as if he had never sinned?
Verse 2—Which is the true gospel, that God actually washes away a man's sins, and makes him truly good, or that his sins are "covered" with "the robe of Christ's righteousness," and although he is still a sinner, God does not impute sin to him?
How would you describe a man "in whose spirit there is no guile"?
What blessings does a true Christian possess that are not enjoyed by others, who are not Christians?
Verse 3—Describe the state of mind of a man who is always going contrary to his conscience.
Compare two men, one who hushes the voice of God in his soul, and another who listens to that voice, and obeys; and say what, if any, effect the habits of these men will have upon the lengths of their lives.
What is it in a man which turns his "misdeeds into the strength of sinners," that turns blessings into calamities?
Verse 4—What are favorably the result of a full confession and forsaking of sin?
Does forgiveness always follow upon a real confession to God?
Verse 5—Is it true or not, that God may be found more readily at one time than another?
Does true prayer ever go unanswered?
Does God take any special care of the man who obeys him, or is he just as liable to all life's calamities as sinners?
Verse 6—How much practical dependence may we place upon God in guiding us in all the affairs of life?
All men in this community have the Bible, the Church and their common sense to guide them; does God promise any other or surer guide, which is available to all?
Does God actually impart other knowledge or wisdom apart from the usual and natural methods?
Verse 7—Is there any way of learning about harmful things short of actual experience?
Animals learn how to avoid things which hurt them and become obedient to "the bit and bridle," but what is the better way, possible to all human beings?
Verse 8—What sorrows do the wicked suffer, which "he that trusteth in the Lord" is exempt from?
Verse 9—Is it the duty and privilege of every body, to "rejoice and shout for joy" at all times?
What are the essential conditions for being glad and rejoicing at all times? (This question must be answered in writing by members of the club).

In "Human Hearts," the story told is one of much interest, in which the sympathies of the audience are thoroughly enlisted. Tom Logan, an honest blacksmith, living in the hills of Arkansas, is entrapped by an adventurer whom he marries without the covering her character. After a time, and while poor Tom thinks his happiness is secure, her former lover appears on the scene. A murder is committed and through the plottings of this infamous man and woman, the crime is fastened on Tom. He discovers the truth, but through love for the woman, and rather than betray her, he bears the stigma, stands trial, is convicted and sentenced to state's prison for life, where he would have remained, had it not been for the intervention of faithful friends, who bring his case to the notice of the governor of Arkansas. In the end, of course, all ends happily and Tom is restored to his former standing in the

It would seem as if everyone who has read Mrs. M. J. Holmes' delightful sketch of men, women and manners in the south, called "Lena Rivers" would want to see the work in dramatic shape. In dramatic shape it has been placed and its success has verged upon the extraordinary. This is not at all wonderful, for the story was exceedingly popular and the dramatization made of it is extremely clever and satisfying. Burton Nixon will present the play at the Myers theatre next Tuesday evening, Oct. 27, giving it with a carefully selected cast and with a production that is all that could be desired. All of the characters of the book are in the play and so are the best of many good community. The play is one in which pathos is combined with comedy. The organization presenting "Human Hearts" is under the management of W. E. Nankville, who has directed its tour most successfully for a number of years. Mr. Nankville is said to have provided ample scenic display for the production and to have engaged a splendid company for the portrayal of the various characters. "Human Hearts" will be presented at Myers theatre tonight.
